Nearly the Goat

written by Nigel Forde

directed by Paul Burbridge designed by Anna Gooch

When was the last time a goat was on hoof to save the day?

Somewhere between the tinsel and the cabbage leaves, the crackers and the parsnip peelings, comes the remarkable story of NEARLY THE GOAT...

...bending his amazing acting talents to impersonate a host of harassed innkeepers and help George tell a spell-binding Christmas story. To say nothing of the wolf!

Will Nearly in his DIY travelling machine get to Bethlehem before the wolf does? And how can the kings return to Persia without their camel?

This night of all nights is heading for a flock of disasters. Well, Nearly. And if it wasn't for one relentlessly cheerful, extremely interrupting goat butting in...

With an extraordinary range of puppetry skills, Riding Lights brings you the Christmas story in unforgettable style. Hilarious and magical, Nigel Forde's delightful play has drawn acclaim from both young and old.

Touring: 25th November - 23rd December
