Dear Fishergate Children,

Another week in lock-down; I am really missing seeing you all and I bet that you are missing your friends and your teachers as well.

This week your teachers and teaching assistants have organised some fabulous experiences for you. There have been pet show-and-tells, class chats and catch-ups, a coffee morning for parents, and a session with an adventurer who has climbed Everest! Amazing! I hope that you are enjoying this part of your home learning. If you are struggling to join in because you are having problems with logging on or anything like that then make sure that you let your teacher know as they will gladly help you.

Next week it should be our Star Wars marathon day – can you believe we are in May already? You won't be surprised to know that Mrs Wilson has been planning something mad! She is running past the houses of all the children in Early Years who have said that they would like to see her and she will be giving them all socially distanced waves. Good luck Mrs Wilson!

I am still in awe of Captain (or should I say Colonel?) Tom and his achievements. I have just checked and he has now raised nearly thirty three million pounds. All from his garden – incredible! Now, you might not be able to raise that much, but remember my assembly; every little thing that you do can make a difference and help to colour our world kind.

Please could you do me a favour and let your grown-ups know that there will be no home learning next Friday as it is a bank holiday. Have a great weekend.

Take care and be kind,
Mrs Clarke
