World Book Day

World Book Day is Thursday 4th March and we want to celebrate how much we love books!

Children who are currently attending school are invited to come dressed as a favourite book character on Thursday 4th. (Please be creative with clothes and accessories you already own—do not feel you have to spend any money!)

Children who are learning from home –we offer you a challenge! Recreate a moment from one of your favourite books. You might be inspired by an illustration from the book, or it may be a key dramatic moment from the story. Either email a photo to admin@fishergateschool.com or upload a photo to your class stream—see if your friends can guess the title of the book!
